The Truth is Out There . . .

NOTE NEW MEETING PLACE AND DAY!!!

MEETING DATE: Wednesday, November 22, 1995 ♦ MEETING TIME: 7:30 p.m. SHARP

LOCATION: 5636 E. McDowell Road - National Guard Armory (see below for details)

PROGRAM: THE SUNNY BARCLIFF STORY

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

The debate concerning the alien autopsy continues. As discussed previously, it now appears that the autopsy took place after the Socorro, NM crash, which occurred in late May of 1947.

I understand that on November 19th Colin Andrews, of Crop Circle and Santilli tape fame, has reserved Madison Square Garden in New York for an earth-shattering announcement!

Sunny Barcliff is this month's guest, and I know that "Thanksgiving Eve" is not the best night to catch everyone still in town and available to attend the meeting, but I have heard her story and you will find it just fascinating. It's one that you won't soon forget, so be sure to mark your calendar.

Also, the December meeting has been moved up a week due to Christmas, and our guest that night will be Ron Russell, a researcher working on crop circles who has just returned from England. It's a special meeting and we will be charging an admission price of $8.00 for MUFON members and $10.00 for non-members. Mark your calendars for December 20 for that meeting.

Doris Barley, who has served as Section Director of Yuma County for the past several years, is stepping down at the end of the year. She has done an excellent job of organizing the Yuma MUFON chapter and she will be sorely missed. Thanks for all your hard work, Doris, and we hope that even though you are "on to other projects" you'll be able to find time to come to the Yuma meetings and stay in touch.

We had a good turnout at our October meeting, the first in the National Guard Armory facility. Now that we have a larger meeting room, we urge everyone to bring friends and interested parties to our meetings. Let's fill the auditorium!

From time to time I have received newspaper clippings and articles from several different members. Our main source has been Doris Barley in Yuma, and with Doris taking on new projects, I hope others will send in clippings that we can use in the newsletter. Special thanks to Preston Westmoreland for sending us the article concerning the Cave Creek Crash.

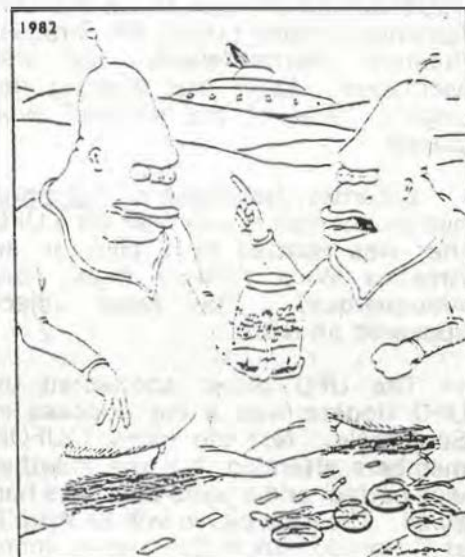

Didn't you think it strange that of all the places where the Bosnia peace talks could have taken place, they were scheduled to take place at Wright-Patterson Field in Dayton, where the alleged Roswell (and perhaps Socorro) crash debris and alien bodies are kept?

Jan Aldrich, from Project 1947, working on a grant from the Bigelow Foundation, was in Phoenix recently to do library research, and I had the pleasure of meeting him. Lots of interesting tales were told.

See you at the meeting!

Tom Taylor
State Director

"Now don't forget, Gorok! ... This time punch some holes in the lid!"

MEDIA WATCH

by Tom Taylor

In the interest of keeping the UFO topic before the public, the following is a list of programs on the subject recently aired via television, radio and newspaper in recent weeks. We will attempt to list programs ahead of time whenever possible; unfortunately, we are often not notified of programs until it is too late to publish them in the Newsletter in time for members to view, hear or read them. In the case of TV and radio programs, ask at MUFON meetings to see if anyone is aware of someone who may have taped them to share.

Always be sure to check current TV listings before viewing!

October turned out to be an interesting month with several UFO-related programs. On October 20, 20/20 aired a very good segment on crop circles. They showed some of the newer and more complex circles from the fall of 1995. On the 27th, Art Bell's week-day program featured a four-hour interview with Richard Hoagland. Richard was mainly talking about the timing of atomic bombs -- when they could be detonated -- and that there are supposedly only certain places on the earth where this can take place.

On Halloween, Jim Dilettoso was a featured guest on Pat McMahon's live radio program. They were talking about the UFO phenomenon, and I think that Pat became a believer after she had a chance to see some of the Mexico City UFO activity on video.

Later that evening KTAR did a 1995 version of "War of the Worlds" featuring, among others, Bill Strauss, Preston Westmoreland, and Pat McMahon. Later that evening the original "War of the Worlds" was played.

Saturday, November 4, Sightings had an interesting segment on a UFO that was spotted by a pilot on an America West Airlines flight near Albuquerque. The same object appeared on radar.

The UFO picnic sponsored by UFO Update was a big success in Scottsdale. Not too many MUFON members attended, but the weather was perfect and a good time was had by all. The next picnic will be April 6 at El Dorado Park in Scottsdale; more details later.

The November issue of Java Cafe Monthly features a story about MUFON-AZ. It's available free at any of the coffee houses around town!

I have been told the recent issue of OMNI once again has an article concerning UFOs. I haven't been able to get a copy, so I'm not sure.

From time to time we will include interesting "downloads" from CompuServ and America Online as well as other computer bulletin board-type media having to do with the UFO phenomenon. The following was submitted from CompuServe:

Here's more details of the Reuters news wire about the Bosnian peace talks taking place at the Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio. Reuters reports that there are 23,000 working at the base, which is about 60 miles northeast of Cincinnati and is the largest Air Force Base in the United States.

The story says that reports from UFOlogists still claim that the base has the bodies of dead aliens stored in tunnels or kept frozen in lockers. It says that the base was at the center of the Roswell investigation and that the bodies of aliens retrieved at the site were taken to Wright-Patterson.

The base has been chosen for the Bosnian peace talks because of the high level of security. Guards are posted at all the gates to the 8,145-acre base. Air Force Major Clemens Gaines at the Pentagon is quoted as saying, "It is a well secured facility by virtue of limited access. There are also other security means. If someone goes over the fence, I don't think it would go unnoticed."

Channel 10, KSAZ, featured a two-hour special "The Invaders" on Sunday, November 12, and concluding Tuesday the 14th. It was strange and frightening -- probably for the benefit of the viewers. They also had a story on Roswell on the Channel 10 news at 10 p.m. on Tuesday the 14th -- the subject of UFOs continues to be put before the public on prime-time "serious" television!

FAR WEST REGIONAL CONFERENCE ON UFOs, SCI-FI, NEW AGE, AND ALTERNATIVE HEALTH August 26, 1995 - Kingman, AZ

We listened to the variety of speakers. We weren't able to hear all of the speakers due to the schedule and the poor facilities. Not all of the speakers had UFO topics. The conference was their first one in Kingman, I was told. It was held in a large auditorium housing both the vendors and the speakers. Due to this, it wasn't always easy to hear the speakers.

At 11:45 a.m. there were approximately 90 people in attendance, counting vendors, speakers and attendees. I'm sure more came and went, but it still seemed like a small town event with some very good speakers who had come a good distance to share their experiences.

The first speaker was Bill McDonald. Having worked with UFOlogist Leonard Springfield, Mr. McDonald spoke of many details about interviews with people connected to the Roswell crash. With his talents and occupation being "forensic reconstruction illustrator," he has taken specifics from witnesses to the Roswell crash and the beings found onsite and has created detailed illustrations: "... seamless vehicle ... not round, flattened rounded ... like a stingray ... hexagonal tiles, inlaid in ... similar to modern Stealth aircraft today ... onsite sketches look a lot like the modern SR71 ..." -- and about the beings found at Roswell: "human, Oriental/Filipino-type eyes, and indented ... the skin was similar to the color of an albino baby gecko ... two bodies had four fingers; three bodies had 4 fingers with an opposable thumb ... suction cup fingertips ... 5-toe bone structure, but the flesh was naturally fused together ..."

Mr. McDonald went on further to describe a variety of other types of aliens. Some were the more talked about greys, Nordic and mantis types, but he also described a few lesser-talked-of aliens. A couple of other types included "hybrids" which look like pale children/adults, some with black eyes; "neomates," fetuses taken from humans after the first trimester, then incubated; a variety that are metallic head/helmet with pincer hands, no mouth, just slits, mechanical movements; and finally, aliens with something like masks covering/imbedded over the nose and mouth area. He felt it is very important to have all unusual phenomenon investigations as professional as possible.

The next speaker was Donald Schmitt, co-author of UFO Crash at Roswell. He spoke of a great many specifics concerning the government's attempt to cover up UFO sightings and Roswell's famous incident. Based on interviews with 500 witnesses, following are some excerpts from his interesting presentation:

"Roswell coverup ... government having a hard time to cover it up ... no other subject is locked up so like UFOs; what is so sensitive about it? July 5, 1947 ... New Mexico B-2 atomic testing ... the people at "509 Unit" (Roswell) were the "best of the best" pilots, etc., elite of the military ... the atomic bomb was at Roswell ... people up to and including a 4-star general have verified this ... five bodies ... two flatbeds, a crane, and lead-lined body bags (on hand at the atomic base) were brought onsite ... cordoned off a 50-square-mile radius ... (for a weather balloon?) ... local dairy delivered a truckload of dry ice shortly after midnight ... a local mortician was asked for small caskets and was asked the best way to preserve tissue; it was he who suggested the dry ice ... over two dozen witnesses of materials found on the 75,000 acre ranch ... the debris field was 3/4 mile long, 300ft. wide; it was about 3 miles north of the crash site ... radio reporter from KGFL talked to the rancher ... reported in the London Daily News, the papers in Mexico, Japan and Singapore ... 50 to 60 troops involved ... 2-1/2 days to clean up the debris field ... it was announced that the base commander, Col. Blanchard, was on leave to Hawaii, but he was actually onsite.

"July 8, start the dis-information ... now photo was taken posing with reflective weather balloon ... asked to believe the elite military couldn't identify the difference between a crashed saucer with bodies and a weather balloon ... headlines: 'Roswell's Saucer Nothing But Hot Air' ... military threatened children and parents of witnesses if they told ... sheriffs and deputies who were onsite were later told 'we will kill your children if you talk of this' ... eight months of interviewing witnesses and trying to convince them of what they didn't see ... many waited until their deathbeds to talk about what they saw."

Mr. Schmitt said that a common argument is that "there is no such thing as a cover-up." A great example to refute this is that when 1,000 men drowned during a military exercise in 1946, the families were not told the truth until 1986. There has been a strong push for congressional investigation of the Roswell crash. Mr. Schmitt spoke of Congressman Schiff's trials and tribulations of the government runaround, all the way through to the GAO and the Air Force's "Project Mogul" . . . farce of an explanation . . . the Soviets didn't test their atomic device until August of 1949 . . . GAO report came out, no evidence to support the weather balloon theory, massive ongoing cover-up, and they determined that 40 years ago, someone destroyed all the records. Mr. Schmitt doesn't believe they were destroyed. He wrapped up his talk with the note that surveys say that the majority of Americans believe in UFOs, and the higher the education, the more they believe in their existence.

The next speaker was Miesha Johnston, who is facilitating support groups for contactees and abductees. It had been realized that many contactees are hurting and scared after their contacts with aliens. The time had come to start a support group, as well as children's and teen's groups. Not wanting to be a "speaker" at this event, Ms. Johnston shared the talk with two other group members. Each shared that they have found it very beneficial to everyone involved to be part of the group. The most interesting thing that came up was that each of the three are generational contactees -- it had also happened to their parents and/or their children. They entertained questions including: "How does it happen?" -- they raise the vibration [of the person] to "another level" so it can levitate and disappear, etc. [this phenomenon was discussed in The Celestine Prophecy - ed.] "Do they contact you through dreams?" -- most definitively, especially as adults. That is one of the simplest ways to reach someone.

The question and answer format opened things up, making it easier to share one's personal experiences. One man from the audience talked about his granddaughter, born August 1995, that had been born with an extra finger and an extra toe. The support group system seems to be providing a much-needed comfort in the areas where they exist. Miesha Johnston is willing to provide information to people interested in starting a UFO contactee group [we have several here in the Phoenix area - ed.] Anyone interested in more information can call Ms. Johnston in Las Vegas: (702) 594-5119.

That evening we heard Rev. Robert Short speak on his experiences. His encounters started back in the 1950s. He emphasized the importance of documenting experiences. His talk gave the impression that he documents everything unusual he has encountered. He had a lot to say and was speaking quickly in order to fit in as much as he could in his allotted time. Unfortunately, it was not possible to take notes on everything he said, but his comments included:

"In 1975-1981 there were 8 bases . . . positive creatures [alien bases on Earth] . . . major nations attacked them . . . no positive bases left. April 1954 [the aliens] demanded debris from the two crashes in Roswell . . . 1 survivor . . . here to bring back their world by cross-breeding and genetic work . . . cloned . . . runways to huge hangars . . . Anthill . . . Mountains . . . 30 levels down . . . Reptilians, found in Scripture: "and the Serpent stood before the woman" . . . the sun, moon, and stars will give up their light for 4 days . . . in the April/May/June issue of his publication Solar Space Letter, it was stated that Pope John 23 was killed to stop change . . . in 1998 we will cure almost all known diseases . . . in 2000, return of Christ, above New York . . . prophecies told to the Pope and Nostradamus, and recorded in the Bible . . .

He also suggested that the Challenger crew was taken out of the craft before it blew up because they knew too much -- they were taken away -- never to be seen again -- but they are still alive. (It was not clear if he was speaking of the aliens or our government taking them out.)

By far, Helga Morrow was the most interesting speaker; saved for last. She was warm and captivating, and you couldn't help but see that what she was sharing was very real to her. Born in 1935, her father was a German scientist. He was always working on secret projects in different places. She had many stories to share about her father.

An area of special interest is Montauk, NY. It's a place that looks like a little village but isn't. It was an underground government secret testing site. In January of 1993 Ms. Morrow and a couple of friends went through a torn-down gate to see what they could find at Montauk. It appeared abandoned and vandalized. In one of the buildings they went into they found a large hole in the wall. Going through the hole, they walked about 1/2 mile past strange rooms, iron-barred cages . . . they remembered stories of missing boys of Montauk, caged . . . she had a slide show of the pictures they took while there. One rather odd thing was that they found a hole in the wall that had brand new wiring in it. It was a very frightening experience to go there and find the underground remnants of past abuses of people -- in the name of science. It was her understanding that they tortured people in an attempt to capture their Kundalini energy. Ms. Morrow has written The Morrow Chronicles; call her for details in Tucson at (520) 690-0043.

The Watchers II: Exploring UFOs and the Near Death Experience
By Raymond E. Fowler
Wild Flower Press, Newberg, Oregon
800-366-0264 - $23.95

UFO or HSE?

Raymond Fowler's newest book represents a dramatic departure from his previous work. A forward by Whitley Strieber and a dedication to Kenneth Ring will alert you to the shift of perspective which this work presents. Fowler's "Watchers" are not unlike Strieber's "Visitors" but the label difference defines a value selection which, Fowler acknowledges, derives in no small part from religious implications drawn from the aliens' mystical behavior as depicted, figuratively and literally, by his subject, Betty Andreasson Luca.

You may recall that Fowler has been investigating the abduction experiences of Betty and Bob Luca for many years. This work is an extension of the three previous efforts dealing with those events, books which had been directed more toward chronicling and detailing these strange visitation and abduction events and raising questions as to their meaning, rather than drawing conclusions and inferences. In the current work, Fowler reviews and adds further detail about the abduction events, and includes dramatic illustrations furnished by Mrs. Luca which tend to bolster his observation that she has experienced, ". . . the ultra-high strangeness end of the abduction experience spectrum . . . a parapsychical reality of UFOs and their incredulous implications."

Fowler, building a case for the parapsychical nature of UFO entities, notes that, "some... appear identical to those entities encountered by persons undergoing an NDE (Near Death Experience) in an OBE state of being. One could go on and on with examples that reflect the disparate, seemingly irreconcilable nature of the UFO phenomenon. In essence, UFOs and their operators present us with the same kind of paradox as light. Light has proven to be both particle (material) and wave (non-material) in nature. UFOs and the entities that operate them are reported to be both physical and non-physical." (303)

In discussing his own position shift on the nature of UFOs Fowler notes, "... I was a strong advocate for the nuts-and-bolts nature and physical ET origin of UFOs, (thus) I was dismayed to see Dr. Vallee and Dr. Hynek move toward a parapsychical hypothesis However, the Andreasson case and subsequent studies of other cases slowly but surely had me join their ranks! ... " Taking the theme a step further Fowler notes "Vallee also may be right about OBE and NOEs being mental images induced by UFO phenomenon. However, I believe that the evidence more strongly points to their being real objective events. My examination of the evidence being collected by UFO and NDE researchers indicate that UFO and NOEs are different manifestations of the same phenomenon." (362)

In addition to the detail furnished by Betty's drawings and the transcripts of her regression sessions which account for about two thirds of the book, Fowler seeks to illustrate the parallels that many have noticed between NOEs, OBEs (Out of Body Experiences) and abductions. He notes that, "... whoever controls the UFO phenomenon is intimately connected with the afterlife of human beings." (309) (See, for example, our previous reviews of The Omega Project by Dr. Kenneth Ring, Keith Thompson's Angels & Aliens, and the works of Robert Monroe.)

Fowler goes on to offer, "... a daring hypothesis that before now I dared only share with one person for fear of ridicule and rejection by my peers." I.e., "... if we take and integrate the total characteristics of the UFO and NDE phenomenon at full face value, the bottom line implication is that death may be the ultimate UFO abduction experience!" (324) through a darkened window? Temporal lobe or EM effects allowing the processing of voices and light at the point of death or near death? Trans-dimensional excursions to either side of the veil? Or merely beyond the pale?

Are these strange, oft' times bizarre events, subtle glimpses

The term "UFO" has served to limit and define our focus of inquiry for this past half century, even as our conclusions have had to bridge a wider and wider credulity chasm. Will this convenient convention lose its adhesive, cohesive potency and be replaced by something with a quantum resonance, perhaps more inclusive but less conclusive, something like, say, HSE - High Strangeness Encounters?

In this intriguing book by Raymond Fowler you will be offered ample evidence to support or challenge this or any of the other numerous paradoxical offerings wafting through the ether. A brief but adequate bibliography, a good index, an interesting formatting of flashbacks, quotes and review material and, of course, the rich detail of Mrs. Luca's drawings make this a keeper volume for the student of UFOs or HSEs.

"U.S. BLACK PROGRAMS"

The February 5, 1995 edition of Aviation Week and Space Technology contained an interesting cover story on "U.S. Black Programs". Aviation Week and Space Technology is a highly reputable weekly magazine for the aerospace industry. The following quotations are extracted from this article.

According to Aviation Week and Space Technology, "The U.S. military currently is pursuing twelve significant black projects." A "black" project is a military program whose classification requires even its existence to be kept a secret. The "classified projects include two fixed-wing aircraft prototypes, two rotary wing programs, and eight weapons programs."

"The U.S. military is using at least two classified helicopter projects to investigate low radar signatures and low noise levels." "Outside observers have said they believe one type of small, very quiet helicopter has been operating for years." "The twin-turbine-powered helicopter is said to have four rigid, slightly scimitar-shaped rotor blades and a four-port, no-tail-rotor boom." "The rotor hub is claimed by observers to be configured so that the main rotor disk diameter can be reduced several feet by sweeping the blades, ostensibly to reduce noise and allow higher speed for forward flight." "The single-pilot helicopter has an overall length of 33 ft. Short stub wings can carry external weapons."

As described this helicopter is different than the alleged "black helicopters" I have seen reported in the UFO literature. The helicopters reported in the UFO literature more closely resemble the Bell UH-1 series (Huey), common in the Vietnam war.

"Many of the defense Departments classified projects appear to be associated both with improved stealth and precision-strike capabilities." "Any of the stealth work needs to be done on a radar range..."

U. S. radar signature test facilities are located at Nellis AFB in Nevada, Edwards AFB in California, a Lockheed facility near Barstow California, and Holloman AFB in New Mexico. The aircraft mentioned in this article are most likely to be spotted around these four test facilities.

"Most of the reputed sightings of aircraft in flight, U.S. defense officials associate with unmanned aerial vehicle prototypes or proof-of-concept designs for the Tier 2, 2-, 3- and now canceled Tier 3 reconnaissance programs; the stealthy Tri-Service Standoff Attack Missile, and the stealthy helicopter programs."

Most of the Tier designs are believed to be configured as flying wing shapes with wing spans of around 70 ft.

"A Pentagon Advanced Concept Technology Demonstrator project is flying a manned aircraft at the classified Groom Lake, Nev., facility. A project, until recently named 'Ivy', involves an aircraft coating that changes hues and brightness when subject to an electrical charge."

REVIEW OF THE EARTH CHRONICLES

For many months we have been including "installments" of Dimitri Ossipov's wonderful synopsis of The Earth Chronicles by Zecharia Sitchin. We are now publishing the Chronology involved, and we will include the Foreword to the entire book as well for those of you who may have become Newsletter subscribers since it was first published.

FOREWORD

Zecharia Sitchin is an eminent scholar and historian who spent more than 309 years studying ancient texts, mostly Sumerian and Hebrew. It must have been a formidable task to decipher and interpret thousands of tablets; to find a proper meaning to words which had more than one meaning; and decode many words with inverted syllables which could indicate the same proper name or location. All this has resulted in the series of books under a common name The Earth Chronicles. The books involved include: The 12th Planet, The Stairway to Heaven, The Wars of Gods and Men, The Lost Realms, Genesis Revisited, and When Time Began.

The main topic of The Earth Chronicles is the arrival of inhabitants of the 12th planet and their activities on Earth. In Sumerian texts they were called Anunnaki; in the Bible, their name was Nephilim, which means "giants" or "those who came down." In the author's opinion, Genesis of the Bible is an abbreviated and somewhat edited version of Sumerian records. In the original Hebrew Bible, God is called Elohim, which is plural. This will be made clearer as we go on.

It appears that all ancient peoples have more or less the same mythology; only the names change. For example, [in former newsletters we have read about] Enki, who headed the first expedition to Earth. He was also known as Ptah in Egypt or Hephaestus in Greek mythology. His rambunctious son Marduk was known as Ra in Egypt and as Zeus in Greece. His younger brother, the kind Ningizsida, was Thoth in Egypt, Hermes in Greece and Quetzalcoatl in Mexico. Another "deity," Addad/Ishkur, was known as Viracocha in Peru and Rimac in the Andes. Finally, charming Innini/Ishar was the Phoenician Astarte and the Greek Aphrodite.

The leadership of Anunnaki on Earth consisted of a 12-member council, all members of the house of Anu, the ruler of this 12th planet, Nibiru. Since he was absent most of the time, his son and heir-apparent, Enlil, chaired the council.

CHRONOLOGY

B.C.	Events
450,000	On Nibiru, a distant member of our solar system, life faces a slow extinction as the planet's atmosphere erodes. Deposed by Anu, the ruler Alalu escapes in a space ship and finds refuge on Earth. He discovers that the Earth has gold, which can be used to protect Nibiru's atmosphere.	100,000
445,000	Led by Enki, son of Anu, the Anunnaki land on Earth, establish Erdu (space station #1), for the purpose of extracting gold from the waters of the Persian Gulf.	The climate warms again. The Anunnaki, to Enlil's annoyance, marry the daughters of the Man.
430,000	Earth's climate mellows. More Anunnaki arrive, among them Enki's half-sister Ninharsag, Chief medical officer.	75,000
416,000	Gold production falters. Anu arrives with Enlil, the heir-apparent. It is decided to obtain gold by mining in Southern Africa. Enlil takes command of the Earth mission, Eridu. Enki supervises mining in Africa.	The New Ice Age begins. Regressive types of Man roam the Earth. Only Cro-Magnon Man survives.
400,000	Seven settlements in Southern Mesopotamia include a space port (Sippar), mission control center (Nippur), metallurgical center (Badtibira), medical center (Shurupak), beacon cities (Larsa and Lagash), and Laarsa - a coordinating center between the Anunnaki on the Earth and those in the air. The ores arrive by ship from Africa. The refined metal is sent to orbiters, then transferred to space ships arriving periodically from Nibiru.	49,000
300,000	The Anunnaki toiling in the gold mines mutiny. Enki and Ninharsag create primitive workers through genetic manipulation of ape-woman. These creatures take over the manual chores of Anunnaki. Enlil raids the mines and brings primitive workers to Edin in Mesopotamia. Given the ability to procreate, Homo Sapiens begin to multiply.	13,000
200,000	Life on Earth regresses during a new glacial period.	11,000
		Enki and Ninharsag elevate humans of Anunnaki parentage to rule in Shurupak. Enlil plots Mankind's demise.
		Realizing that the passage of Nibiru will trigger a tidal wave, Enlil makes the Anunnaki swear to keep an impending calamity a secret from humans. Enki breaks the oath and instructs Noah to build a submersible ship. The deluge sweeps over the Earth. The Anunnaki are witness to total destruction from their orbiting spacecraft.
		Enlil agrees to grant the remnants of Mankind's implements and seeds. Agriculture begins. Enki domesticates animals.
		10,500
		The descendants of Noah are allotted three regions. Ninurta, Enlil's son, drains the rivers in Mesopotamia. Enki reclaims the Nile valley. The Sinai peninsula becomes a post-deluvial spaceport.
		9,780
		Ra/Marduk, Enki's son, divides Egypt between Osiris and Seth.
		9,330
		Seth kills and dismembers Osiris; he then rules over the Nile valley.
		8,970

TOURS & PUBLICATIONS

You want to see a real UFO? A travel agency in Texas is booking trips around famous UFO sites. One popular trip is to Mexico, where many UFO sightings around the active volcano Mount Popocatepetl have been reported. Another trip is to Puerto Rico, to the Laguna Cartagena in Cabo Rojo, where there have been reports of UFOs rising out of and descending into the water, and to El Yunque, a mysterious rain forest where many sightings of both spacecraft and alien beings have been reported. Other trips are planned for the Bahamas, Peru and Egypt.

On each of these trips, participants meet with ufologists and hear local contacts relate experiences. For more information, call (800) 259-8747.

Sci-fi show on Valley radio too real for some

By Mark J. Scarp
Tribune writer

By some reports, much of Arizona perished in flames on Halloween after being blasted by death rays from alien spaceships.

But it was only a radio show. A few listeners became unnerved by a radio drama "reporting" that Martians invaded the Valley on Tuesday night. It compared with the aftermath of the original 1938 broadcast of War of the Worlds, which struck terror into tens of thousands nationwide.

Twelve upset listeners called KTAR (620 AM), whose journalists-turned-actors performed a modern version of H.G. Wells' science-fiction classic Tuesday. Reporter Bart Graves said callers were reassured that "this is only a movie, only a radio drama," but that wasn't enough for one woman.

"(Talk show host) Bill Straus talked to her off the air. She said she nearly had a heart attack driving and nearly crashed her car," said Graves, who impersonated Interior Secretary Bruce Babbitt in the drama. "She said we had a lot of nerve to do the show."

The program was graphic enough that a listener just tuning in could get the wrong idea. For example, it "reported" in realistic fashion the death of journalist Ned Foster, who was depicted as being at the scene of the initial Martian landings near Flagstaff.

When Orson Welles' original CBS drama aired, it, too, was designed to sound like a live news broadcast, fooling thousands into believing the end of the world was at hand.

In Tuesday's war, the earthlings won, but only because bacteria killed the space invaders.
